

The Consideration of an Intercultural Approach in the Ethnology and in the Cultural Anthropology

Summary

Intercultural philosophy which investigates heterogeneous cultures and civilizations with some theoretical and methodological attitudes is close to the ethnology and cultural anthropology. There are exposed theoretical similarities and differences by an intercultural approach of both scientific disciplines. The author of an article studies the development of the intercultural approach and thus he grounds on reasons of such phenomenon. The author states the existing rapprochement of ethnology and cultural anthropology towards its theoretical attitudes in the postmodernity.

Keywords: ethnology, cultural anthropology, intercultural approach, intercultural philosophy, intercultural diversity, universalism, particularism.